M.Ps. FOR FEDERAL ASSEMBLY AND M.L.As. FOR PARLIAMENT

Out Of The Gloaming.

The other day when we were wisely told that the Economic Conference had jumped over the first hurdle we remarked there were many others in the path. We were apparently mistaken.

They are not hurdles; they are mountains, economic and political Everests, which cannot be surmounted so the Conference is being liquidated.

* * * *

They are not all going to be fooled by Ramsay MacDonald's sentimental slush, and President Roosevelt is deputing his conscience keeper and adviser, Professor Raymond Moley, to tell some more home truths. The final break-up is nearing, and a big bust-up is being staged.

* * * *

Mr. S. R. Daniels says in defence of the W. P. "In these days governments are bound to 'live dangerously' and take a lesser risk to avoid a greater". But the W. P. constitution will make Indians to live even more dangerously than under the Ordinance Acts.

* * * *

"All of us have devoted our lives to India, and we are all desperately anxious" to do what is best for India, Sir Charles Innes said after a satisfying dinner. Now we know why they are desperately thrusting the W. P. on India. They can't help it.

* * * *

Sir Charles' confidential piece of advice to the I.C.S. was that "the wise course is to accept the general scheme of the W.P." One more reason for Indians to reject it—what is good for the Services, must be bad for the people.

* * * *

He was not content with so many golden deeds to his credit. "Sooner or later, India must get self-government" he pathetically confessed, again out of sheer desperation. We now know what Sir Charles would have done, if it were possible.

* * * *

But there are more testimonials to the excellences of the W. P. from one of the elect: "We are all pretty pleased with the W. P." writes a secretary of the I.C.S. Association to Sir Charles Innes with gusto. "From the Services point of view the safeguards are good, though there are one or two that want elaborating," he adds.

* * * *

The J.P.C. is now busy "elaborating" those points and the sham-fight is staged for the benefit of the boobs who have gone there.

* * * *

"And the constitution seems as good as we can hope for" says the same philanthropic gentleman who is evidently, desperately anxious to serve India.

* * * *

The "F.P.J." has invited its friends to write letters of commendation of its policy against the "Congress Command" for publication without charge. This public invitation for tenders ought to have a good response from "Facing-both-Ways" "Uriah Heep", "Honest Broker" and so on.

* * * *

But the "Journal" admits, in a mood of utter abandon and even self-introspection, that there are occasions when praises may be worse than insults. A fair warning to its patrons and friends, Sir Purshottamdas, Sir P C. Sethna and Mr. Walchand etc.

* * * *

"They say there is going to be dawn in India" writes the very optimistic "Sind Observer" and "against it stands the baleful and heroic figure of O'Dwyer emblematic of a domination that is to disappear and a night that is passing away."

* * * *

Very romantic and pleasant it is no doubt with the White Paper looming ahead. We would not like to disturb the "heroic mood" of the "Observer" anxiously preparing itself to swallow the W. P. at one gulp. You do not know the Sind heat. It plays such tricks, that poor Sindhis sometimes don't know what they are saying or doing or where they are.

* * * *

From To-day's Post bag:—

"Some time ago I saw there was no agent who was going to sell your newspaper. But now there is. I would be glad if you are kind enough to be an agent and also a correspondent on a small salary (growing rather modest) and not on the commisison."

Such is the new spirit engendered by the prolonged depression—salary dwindling by annual decrements to zero.

* * * *

Smart Young Man: "I should like to ask your advice, sir, as to whether you think your daughter would make me a suitable wife."

Lawyer: "No. I don't think she would. Five rupees please."

WEDGWOOD PLAN FOR INDIA

Says W.P. Is Abdication; Safeguards All But Indian Masses

COMMUNAL ELECTORATES MUST GO

Advocates Adult Franchise And Common Roll

(SPECIAL CABLE)

LONDON, June, 20.

Replacement of the White Paper by a scheme providing for the representation of the British Parliament in the Indian Legislature and vice versa was advocated by Col. Wedgwood while giving evidence at yesterday's meeting of the Select Committee.

Col. Wedgwood vigorously criticised the White Paper as abdication to a narrow oligarchy, and said that there were safeguards for services and finance, of all religions, "except Communism of course"; but for the poor, there were no safeguards, not even a vote.

He declared that the Federal Legislature, as contemplated, would be composed of representatives of absolute rulers of States, of communal interests and wealth.

It must lead to emphasising of religious differences and preserving every cruel custom by excessive nationalism and isolation, while every failure would be attributed to England or British officials.

That was not the sort of Parliament to which he could give his support or entrust the ppeople of India. Col. Wedgwood proposed, therefore, that there should be a central legislature consisting of about ten constitutional reprpesentatives of States, forty (temporarily) nominated representatives of communities, thirty representatives of British Parliament, seventy members indirectly elected by proovincial legislatures, and ten British officials.

WEDGWOOD ASSEMBLY.

He expressed the opinion that an Assembly so constituted would not need paper safeguards because of the presence of representatives of English Parliament and could be relied upon to preserved items enumerated in the list of safeguards, and simultaneously to preserve Liberal traditions of the English Government.

British representatives should consist of 15 members of the House of Commons, 15 Lords to be elected by their respective houses. The House of Commons representatives, therefore, would be responsible to the House and indirectly to the British people. They would go to India for the Indian session and be replaced here by Indian members of Legislative Councils similarly elected.

"THE MISSING BUS."

He agreed with Mr. Baldwin's caution against the missing bus, but said that there was something worse, namely handing over helpless people not to themselves, but to others worse than ourselves. He referred in this connection to the position of the coloured man in South Africa which he ascribed to Britain's failure, when handing over the charge, to give him safeguards or vote.

He objected to the White Paper on similar grounds. "As regards Dominion Status, he urged that we should evolve a constitution which we considered best for all Indians and offer it to India for acceptance or rejection as was done in the case of Ceylon".

Criticising the franchise proposals Col. Wedgwood demanded adult sufferage in provinces and condemned specially communal electorates the demand for which he ascribed to communal leaders' fear of responsible Government. He advocated a common roll as in Ceylon which was "an admirable example of how to dispense with communal representation."

Major Atlee asked if Col. Wedgwood's objection to proposals for the centre were generally on the ground that it was overloaded on the side of wealth, property and privilege.

Col. Wedgwood replied that "overloaded" was hardly strong enough, as it was the most extraordinarily reactionary constitieon ever put forward in Britain.

FEDERATION AND STATES.

Replying to Mr. Morgan Jones, Col. Wedgewood said that while favouring Federation when states had institutions as advanced as the major provinces in British India, he would at present consider only states like Mysore, Travancore and a few others, which had something of the nature of representative institutions, so that those who sat in the Federal Assembly would be constitutional representatives.

CENTRAL GOVT.

Col. Wedgwood informed Sir H Gidney that he favoured Dominion Status eventually, but as he interpreted it, not as it was proposed in the White Paper. He favour also a central government with safeguards in its own constitution, namely by representation of English in it and as soon as Hindus and Moslems agreed among themselves, he would abolish all temporary and nominated members and have a body with no alien element solely elected indirectly by provincial legislatures.

Replying to a further question Col. Wedgwood said he contemplated that reciprocal representation of British and Indian legislators would be a permanent arrangement.—Reuter.

PUSHING UP PRICES

Chamberlain's Plan For Equilibrium In Industry

Sir H. Strakosch Pleads For Higher Commodity Price Level.

(SPECIAL CABLE.)

LONDON, June 20.

First weighty suggestions to bring about an improvement in wholesale commodity prices, was embodied in an important resolution moved by Mr. Neville Chamberlain at the meeting of the Sub-Committee 1 Monetary Committee.

The Chancellor's motion stresses that it is essential that prices should be such as to restore the equilibrium between the cost and production. The fundamental monetary conditions hereto are cessation of deflation, cheap and plentiful credit, and if speculation is actively encouraged, central banks of the principal countries should undertake to co-operate and announce their intention of pursuing vigorously a policy of cheap and plentiful money by open market operations

INDIA'S NEED.

Sir Henry Strakosch gave figures sehowing that Indian agriculturists, owing to fall in prices, were unable to purchase personal comforts. He maintained that it was impossible to restore equilibrium by reducing costs. The Paramount need in India was a ripe in prices.

WOES OF INDIAN PEASANTS.

Sir Henry Strakosch added that a heavy fall in prices of agricultural produce in India since 1928 meant that there was less than enough to meet fixed charges and less than nothing to buy necessities.

GOLD COVER FOR SILVER.

The Monetary Sub-Committee 2 discussed the gold standard in the course of which. Cosio, from Uruguay, suggested the adoption of silver as a metal standard to be made under the assumption of scarcity of gold. He expressed the opinion that 25 per cent. gold cover for silver was psychologically dangerous.

M Jaspar agreed to lower the gold percentage proposed in the American resolution, but expressed some reservation on the question of silver.

PITTMAN'S RESOLUTION DISCUSSED.

Discussion was on Senator Pittman's resolution. Viscount Hailsham's suggestion urging separation of two matters, namely those relating to gold on one side and silver on the other, was accepted and committee to examine silver proposal was accepted. Delegates were selected from Britain, Italy, Mexico, Canada, India, China, Japan with Senator Pittman as chairman. Sir Henry Strakosch said he was grateful to Sir Austin Chamberlain that he had chosen the method of raising prices instead of reducing costs, because a further large reduction of costs would bear most heavily on agricultural populations like those in India, where 22-1/2 per cent of agriculturists' income went on fixed charges.

SIMLA DEFENDS SILVER LOOT

Hails Deal As Sound Business Proposition To Expedite Reserve Bank

(From Our Special Correspondent)

SIMLA, June 20.

While public opinion in India condemns the Anglo-British silver deal for the payment of War debt instalment by Britain as nothing short of a loot, Simla welcomes it as a windfall which enabled Indian Government to dispose off surplus silver.

It is significant that the Government of India hold the view that their sale is to Britain and has no relation to the price which Britain may get from America.

India sold; Britain acquired and pocketted the difference. Simla hails this as a great stroke of business to add to reserves necessary to expedite the Reserve Bank.

That the recent Indian silver deal will enable England to pay a token instalment of the American debt, has been the subject for comments, some favourable some unfavourable. Financial authorities here maintain that their action has been entirely in the interest of India and that criticism of their policy is without any weight. It is stated that for over seven years the policy of the Government of India has been to pursue a definite course disposing of surplus, but that hitherto they been so regulating the sales as not suddenly to flood the market and depress prices. The recent change was in the nature of a windfall which enabled the India Government dispose of over five crores worth surplus silver, the proceeds from to which would be credited to the paper currency reserve in due course. Price which would be realized from Britain has apparently not yet, decided, but would be shortly announced. The Government of India maintain that their sale is to Britain and has no relation to price which England may get for it from the U.S.A.

SILVER CURRENCY.

It is well known that America agreed to put a somewhat fictitious price on the transaction with a view to have token instalment from the United Kingdom. At present 109 crores of silver rupees are with the Government of which about fifty crores may be described as surplus. It is only if the world were to adopt silver as currency that the present deal may be considered shortsighted, but there is no prospect at present of such a development taking place. On the other hand the Government has by selling silver, been able to realize good amount and add it to the reserve which is to be built up for the purpose of backing the proposed Reserve Bank.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED.

As regards the criticism that silver now sold was bought at four times the price for which it is being sold to-day the Government's contention is that silver then was bought to meet the ever increasing demand of people for rupees in preference to currency notes and that the situation to-day is entirely altered. Silver prices are not expected to appreciate in a near future and there is no prospect of releasing large quantities of silver into market with a view to reduce the large surplus on hand.

GOVT. IN HAPPY MOOD.

As regards the argument that India has been made to part with her precious metal the reply of the Government is that in view of the continuous production silver there is no fear whatever of silver starvation and that the argument is purely sentimental. The Government in fact are happy that this windfall has enabled them to add to reserves so essential for establishing a reserve bank.

WARNING!

It has come to the knowledge of the Cement Marketing Company of India, Ltd., that some Cement dealers and merchants are in the habit of adulterating genuine Cement sold by this Company with foreign and inferior cement or with foreign substances such as trap rock dust and selling such spurious and inferior Cement in used bags which have been sold by this Company still bearing the original brands such as "Swastika", "Ganpati", "B. B. B.", or 'Castle' with a view to making dishonest profits by deceiving the purchasers. Such a practice is not only highly injurious to the reputation of the Company but is a serious offence under the Indian Penal Code

All users of cement are therefore warned that the use of the Cement that is not a genuine brand is liable to cause a serious failure in the Concrete constructed with it and may thus lead to loss of life, for an inferior Cement produces an inferior Concrete of a reduced strength and quality.

To assure economy and permanence in Concrete structures users of Cement are requested to examine the bags of Cement supplied and if the contents or get up of the bag give rise to suspicions in the mind of the buyer, the Company should be notified immediately so as to permit of an investigation.

Any of this Company's brands which are offered at less than the advertised price of such brands in the market should be regarded with suspicion.

Cement users are recommended to safe-guard themselves by purchasing supplies of genuine Cement from the Company's registered stockists, the names of whom will be supplied on application.

COTTON STRONG ON ACTIVE BUYING

Bullish But Indefinite Acreage Statement

RAINS BADLY NEEDED OVER ENTIRE BELT

Idle Mills Starting Up

Bombay, June 20

The Secretary to the Agriculture Department of the U. S. A. Government issued on Monday the long awaited statement on acreage reduction and processing tax. Although the statement is indefinite it is regarded bullish. Temporary the market may be affected unfavourably but the whole programme is more constructive than generally expected and will help in bringing higher prices eventually.

NEW YORK MARKET.

The New York cotton futures market was active and strong on active buying, stimulated by strength of Wall Street and buying on reaction theory. The market opened at a rise of 14 points and recorded further sharp improvement on short covering and trade bying. The advance was meeting profit-taking and at the time of Liverpool close, prices were quoted 16 to 18 points above the previous close. In the afternoon there was increased support with speculative buying. The official statement regarding the reduction of acreage and processing tax was considered indefinite and influenced large selling which depressed prices to a rise of 8 points only. Later on firmness of Wall Street market stimulated large speculative buying. Professional operators were buying freely and prices recorded a rise of 25 points from the low level reached during the early part of the afternoon after the receipt of the acreage statement. The market closed at a net rise of 27 to 31 points. Spot cotton prices advanced 30 points at 9.35c.

LIVERPOOL MARKET.

The Liverpool cotton futures market opened very steady at a rise of two points on trade calling. Later on the market was awaiting developments of the Economic Conferencc. Business was restricted. There was straddle selling and long liquidation. The market closed quiet but steady unchanged to a decline of one point. Middling American Spot cotto prices declined 3 points at 6.16d. per lb.

EAST INDIAN COTTON

East Indian cotton futures closed unchanged, but Egyptian cotton market was quiet and closed at a decline of one to two points.

The Alexandria cotton futures market was quiet and closed at a decline of 2 to 3 points.

RAINS NEEDED.

Latest cables received here state that the drought in West Texas is causing anxiety and rains are badly needed over the entire belt. Mills in the States are at the highest activity and idle mills are starting. There is a large demand for cloth and mills have booked large forward business.

ACREAGE REDUCTION PLAN

Messrs. Thos. Smith & Co. state:—

With a further depreciation in the dollar there was a sharp recovery in all American markets. With regard to the stabilisation of the dollar the latest American cables state that although Roosevelt has rejected the London proposal as to the ratio he has instructed the American delegates in London giving them his own ratio upon which he would be willing for stabilisation.

Mr. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, announced yesterday the Government plan to raise cotton prices by leasing 10 million acres, making compensatory payments to farmers of 100 to 150 million dollars. He stated this plan was conditional ppon the willingness of the Southern plantery to cooperate. At the general meeting held a short while back of growers, Spinners and Co-operative Societies it was unanimously recommended to Government for a 30 per cent reduction and Mr. Wallace, therefore, evidently considers that a minimum of 2 to 3 million bales reduction in production is possible. The maximum processing tax has also been incided despite opposition but the general opinion seems to be that the similar tax on wheat has had no adverse effect but on the contrary is expected to have a bullish effect on its enforcement.

Our Liverpool friends inform us that the New Farm Bill which has been passed by Congress forbids any Government held cotton to be disposed of for two years.

Latest weather reports are not so favorable at the continued drought in W. Texas is causing anxiety.

PRIVATE CABLES—

New York October highest 9.52 (2-58 p.m.) lowest 9.27 (12-32 p.m.)

Messrs. Sarpchand Prithiraj have received the following cables:—

New York: Immediate market effect unfavourable but plan more expected favourable; if market declines farmers' acceptance more likely; while an immediate advance might defeat; recommend buying on declines.

New York: Market is influenced by Government attitude refraining from interfering with further depreciation dollar.

New York: Believe Department of Agriculture's cotton acreage reduction programme will help in bringing about much higher prices.

Messrs. Drennan & Co. have received the following cable:—

Messrs. E. J. Schwabach & Co., New York:—

"Domestic mills activity highest for several years. Expect steadily increasing. Acreage reduction plan announced noon to-day, is cosidered very definite. Expect wide fluctuations for a while."

Messrs. Patel Brothers have received the following cables:—

New York Cotton Exchange Service cabled as under:—

"Crop progress favourable although now spotted. Rains early week were needed to relieve dry spell in some areas, but some still unrelieved. West Texas rains insufficient. Cool weather following rains tended to promote grass and weevils. America cloth sales were equal to production. Buyers hesitant, pending developments of the processing Tax recovery bill. Stocks normal, unfilled orders very large, idle machinery starting up."

Their Liverpool Agents cabled as under:—

1-29 p.m.: Between midnight and daylight no precipitation, warm; rain badly needed in the entire belt.

8-49 p.m.: New York: Increased belief acreage plan will be effected.

Their New York friends cabled as under:—

"Agriculture Department Statement on acreage reduction and processing tax although somewhat indefinite regarded as bullish also strength Stock market and Sterling helpful."

Messrs. Chunilal Mehta and Co have received to-day the following cable information from their foreign friends:—

Liverpool: French insistence on immediate currency stabilization and American determination give primary consideration domestic inflationary programme has brought London Conference to deadlock. If America refuses modify present attitude world will drift further into economic nationalism with planned economies managed currencies as opposed international system.

Liverpool: Market steady awaiting developments Conference. Inclined bearish.

New York: Government announcement indefinite. Bear operators buying to cover. Considerable spinning demand. Stock market firm influencing this market. Market seems to be getting ready for a permanent advance.

New York: Plan effect—market temporarily expected to be unfavourable due uncertainty but constructive more than expected. If market declines, farmers acceptance more likely while immediate advance might defeat plan. Think market a purchase on weak spots.

New York: Believe Department of Agriculture cotton acreage reduction programme will help in bringing higher prices.

Demoralised State

Bombay, June 20.

Dsepite a rise of 27 points in New York futures, the local market ruled easy to-day on increased selling by bear operators. There is no buyer in the market. The market opened at Rs. 205/8 against an expected opening at Rs. 207 for Broach J.-A. delivery. There was scattered covering at the opening by commission firms but later on prices declined to Rs. 202/12 on persistent selling by bear operators who control the situation. The market is demoralised and fluctuates irregularly.

Liverpool market opened very steady at a rise of 3 points but the local market remained dull and prices after improving to Rs. 204/8 again declined. Bear operators are controlling the market. The market closed at 5-30 p.m. as under:—

IMPROVEMENTS COMMITTEE

Agree To Forego Arrears Due From Dharavi Fire Victims

The Improvements Committee on Tuesday considered an application from Miss S. M. Corner, Manager of Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church stating:

For many years, we have conducted a school for the children of the families living in the Bombay Improvement Trust Chawls in Mazagaon, near Nesbit Road, In addition to the regular classes held, which includes classes in carpentry for the boys and in sewing for the girls, we have made a definite effort to improve the chawl community. To that end, the services of a trained midwife and health welfare visitor have been obtained and classes in child welfare are to be held once a week.

The school has grown to capacity and we are really in need of another room but unfortunately for us at this time we have received a 15 per cent cut in all funds, which makes it impossible for us to continue to pay the present rate of rent for the rooms now being used by us. I am, therefore, writing to ask you, where in view of the fact that we have for many years carried on the school for the uplift of the families living in these chawls and have never charged fees to the children attending, it would not be possible for you to make a 15 per cent reduction in the amount of rent charged for the rooms in Chawls 5 and 6. Otherwise we shall probably have to give up one of the rooms now in use. This would make it necessary to turn away some of the children now attending school. The teachers have cheerfully taken a cut in their salaries, and they are all trained and fully qualified. It does not seem quite fair that they should be asked to work under additional difficulty because of lack of sufficient room for the classes, neither do I wish to turn off any of the children.

At present, we have six room for which we are paying Rs. 41-8. One of them for dispensary and health welfare classes was granted at the nominal rent of Re. 1.

CHIEF OFFICER'S NOTE.

The Chief Officer in his note stated:—

The Society is in occupation of 6 rooms, 5 of which are used in connection with their School and the 6th is used for the purposes of a dispensary where medical advice and medicine is given free of charge to the poor of all communities.

The room used for the purposes of a Dispensary has been given to the Society at a concession on payment of a nominal rent of Re. 1 per month as against the standard rent of Rs. 8-8-0 per month. The society is paying full rent amounting to Rs. 40-8-0 per month for the 5 room used in connection with their School.

DHARAVI FIRE RELIEF.

The Committee also considered an application from the President, Dharavi-Kumbharwada Fire Relief Committee, requesting them to forego certain arrears. It stated:—

"As you already know the huts in the Dharavi Kumbharwada standing on the Improvements ground were, with a few exceptions, completely burnt down through an accidental fire on 24th January last. Along with their huts the potters lost all their belongings including their trade implements. Thus in addition to the loss of all property the victims had to remain idle for some days till they were supplied with their trade implements. Owing to these circumstances, the potters have not been able to pay the arrears of rent including the Municipal taxes due from them to the Trust. As my Committee has not been able to raise sufficient funds for erecting huts for the potters, the latter will have to spend some money out of their own pockets for putting up walls, partitions etc., in the structures supplied to them by the Committee.

"I have, therefore, to request you and your Committee if necessary, to sanction the writing off of the arrears including Municipal taxes due from the potters at Dharavi who lost their huts in the last fire disaster. Ground rent and other charges may be recovered from them after the newly built huts are ready for occupation.

The Committee agreed to forego the arrears of Rs. 419-13.

Accused Found Guilty And Fined; Manufacturers To Be Brought To Book

The earnestness with which the Bombay Municipality is pursuing its policy of suppressing adulteration of butter in the city, was evidenced in the prosecutions launched by them in cases of adulteration detected as recently as on the 24th May. There were four fresh cases before Mr. Oscar H. Brown, Presidency Magistrate Third Court, Bombay on Tuesday afternoon.

VENDORS REQUEST.

A remarkable feature of these cases was the desire expressed by the vendors to assist the Municipality to prosecute the Manufacturers.

The first case was adjourned by the Magistrate to enable the Municipality to prosecute the manufacturer, while in the second case the counsel for the defence asked for time to summon the manufacturer. In the third case the accused was fined Rs. 100, and in the fourth case Rs. 75.

ACCUSED'S PLEA.

The first case taken up was that against Chowharjan Agam, 11 Ormiston Road. He was alleged to have sold butter found to contain, on analysis by the Municipal Analyst, 86.3 per cent foreign matter. The accused said that he had purchased the butter from the Indian Dairy Farm and that he was prepared to assist the Municipality to prosecute the manufacturers.

MAGISTRATE'S SUGGESTION.

The Magistrate suggested an adjournment of the case in order to get the manufacturer before him. The Magistrate was of the opinion that the source of supply must be stopped and, therefore, postponed the case to July 4, and ordered the accused to enter into a bond of Rs. 100.

88 PER CENT FOREIGN MATTER

In the second case Kisan Mohan, 142 Colaba Road, was charged under the Bombay Prevention of Adulteration Act for selling butter found to contain on analysis 88 per cent. foreign matter.

Mr. N. S. Birdie applied for a postponement of the case, as he was sunmoning the proprietors of "Shapoor Mall" who, he alleged, had sold the stuff to the accused. The Magistrate was reluctant to give an adjournment, but as the manufacturer was to be brought to the Court, he adjourned the case to July 4, and ordered the accused to enter into a bond of Rs. 100 to appear in Court at the next hearing.

NOT BUTTER AT ALL.

Haji Gulam Ali, a Moghul Tea shop owner, 184, Kazi Sayad Street was next prosecuted for selling "butter" alleged to contain 100 per cent foreign matter to an officer of the Bombay Municipality. The officer in his evidence deposed having visited the shop on May 24, and bought half a pound of butter from the accused which on analysis was found to contain 100 per cent foreign matter.

IGNORANCE PLEA.

The accused pleaded guilty and said that he had purchased the stuff from "Yezdani Dairy Farm" and produced the receipts in Courts. Counsel for the accused pleaded for leniency on the ground that his client was an illiterate man and, therefore, he may be given a light sentence. The Magistrate said: "In this case, it is not so much the criminal intent that was the main issue, but the danger to public health involved in the offence." It seemed to him to be a case calling for the maximum sentence.

Dr. R. K. Mhatre, Assistant Health Officer, on behalf of the Municipality, submitted that the Irani shop-keepers were quite aware of what they were purchasing and they invariably brought cheap stuff and passed it on as genuine butter. The offence therefore called for a severe sentence.

The Magistrate fined the accused Rs. 100, in default, two months imprisonment.

FOURTH CASE.

The fourth case was against Akbaralli Mahomedalli also a tea shop-owner at 67 Chakla Street, Bombay. Butter sold by him was found to contain 70 per cent. foreign matter. Accused pleaded guilty. He was fined Rs. 75, in default 2 months.

ADMINISTERING POISON

Two Men Committed To Sessions

Mr. M. A. F. Coelho, Ag. Presidency Magistrate, Fifth Court, committed to the ensuing criminal sessions Rajanna Balanna and Narsanna Possanna on charges of administering a certain poison with intent to cause hurt to Gangaram Narsanna and his cousin Gangaram Gangaram.

The facts of the case are that on Dec. 6, 1932, Rajanna Belanna, the first accused brought food to Gangaram Narsanna and his cousin at the Pralhad Mill where they were working. The accused is alleged to have brought the food there, despite the protest Narsanna and on the pretext of recovering his 2 days' wages from the time-keeper to whom he had otherwise no access. He had worked in the mill in the absence of Narsanna who had prevously gone on leave to Hyderabad, his native place.

GIDDY AFTER MEALS.

Soon after taking food, Narsanna and his cousin are both said to have felt giddy and become unconscious. They were removed to the K. E. M. Hospital by one Vithoba Geliapa.

On information received from the K. E. M. Hospital Sub-Inspector Satam of the DeLisle Road Police proceeded to the room of Balanna and there found in the presence of a panch a cloth bag containing two 'dhatura' fruits and a grinding stone which was wet at the time. These were removed. Both the accused were absconding for about a month and a half.

ARRESTS.

The first accused was arrested at Hyderabad on the 6th February and re-arrested on April 24. The second accused Passanna was arrested at Naigaum Chawls on January 31, where he was hiding. It appears there was ill-feeling between Gangaram and Balanna due to a quarrel between their wives at the water tap some months ago.

In his statement to the court, Rajanna Balanna said that the 'Dhatura' fruits found in his room were brought by Narsanna who said they were meant for some purpose.

Next day at 8 a.m. on December 12, 1932, Narsanna roasted some of the fruits and pounded them. He tied the powder in a packet and put it into his pocket. After this, Rajanna took the food to the Pralhad Mill, accompanied by Narsanna. The 'lota' and dal-pot were carried by Narsanna, while Rajanna took the tin containing rice.

On the way, Narsanna left for Kamatipura, and Rajanna proceeded to the mill and gave the food to Gangaram. After this, Rajanna went to Thakkar Chawl opposite the Pralhad Mill.

LIQUOR EPISODE.

Here Narsanna met him and stated that Narsanna's wife was abusing Rajanna on the ground that he had proved treacherous. They then went to Saitan Chowky where Rajanna was given liquor by the other accused. He was then told that police were after him and that it was dangerous to get back to his room. Narsanna subsequently took him to the cement chawl at mid-night where he was given Rs. 2/- and induced to leave for his native place, after being assured that his wife and brothers would be well looked after.

As for Narsanna he said he would make his statement in the High Court and give the names of his witnesses to the clerk of the crown.

The O S K Steamer "Andes Maru" left Moji for Bombay on June 19, and is due to arrive here on July 13 via usual ports.

THE BOMBAY CHRONICLE

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 21, 1933

THE RAPE OF ADEN

The Simla communique on the future administration of Aden confirms the worst suspicions in the public mind regarding the Government's intentions. We are told that the Government are still considering the question and that no final decision will be arrived at till the Indian legislature and all other interests concerned have had an opportunity of expressing their views. This means that, whatever views the people of India and Aden may express, Government reserve to themselves the right of making the final decision without even a pretence of negotiations. At the same time, the one-sided reasoning in the communique makes it clear that they have all but decided to transfer Aden to the Colonial Office.

PUERILE REASONING.

The communique urges three main reasons why Aden "should not remain linked with India under the new constitution." They are; (1) that it is geographically remote from India, (2) that it would not naturally fit into the new Federation, and (3) that it is already to some extent under Imperial ciontrol. These reasons are not only unconvincing they are puerile. Aden is geographically far more remote from Britain than from India, not to mention racial and cultural differences. It is also curious that the remoteness of Aden occurs to the British Government only after a century, when it has grown to be a prosperous trading centre and Inda is about to receive a constitution of her own. It was left to be linked with India so long as it was a deficit unit of administration and needed Indian resources in men and money for its development. Surely there must be some measure of fairness even in exploitation.

As for the contention that Aden would not naturally fit into the new Federation, even a tyro in constitutional practice will appreciate that it can be far more easily fitted into the Federation, as part of the Bombay Presidency, with which it is specially connected in a variety of ways, than into the administration of Britain. And we are confident that, if a referendum were to be taken on this point in Aden itself the people of the Port would almost unanimously vote for the connection with Bombay.

NO JUSTIFICATION FOR ROBBERY.

There remains the argument that Aden is already to some extent under Imperial control. The appropriate reply to this plea is that the military and political administration, which was taken over by the British Government during the War as a temporary measure and was most unjustly made a permanent measure in 1927, ought now to be restored to India. The mere fact that Aden is a military centre of great strategic value is no justification for robbing India of such a valuable possession.

As a bait to induce India to waive her right to the Port she is promised that she would be relieved of the annual contribution of Rs. 20 lakhs at present payable towards the military and political administration. The contribution itself is unconscionable, as the high military expenditure is more for Britain's benefit than for India's. The "Times", which naturally hails the prospect of quietly annexing an important place built up by India, remarks with characteristic British altruism that the greatest advantage to India of the proposed transfer is that it will relieve her of a heavy contribution. Justice to India requires that the military and political and administration itself should be restored to India, that the military expenditure should be reduced and adjusted to Indian needs, and that, if more expenditure is needed for British needs, Britain should pay the excess in the form of a subsidy.

ONE MORE PLEDGE SCRAPPED.

Considerations like the above induced even the Government of India for a long time to resist the British Government's designs on Aden. As late as in 1929 Sir Denys Bray was able to assure the Assembly that "all idea of such a transfer has long since been abandoned." It is evident that the Government of India have now scrapped this pledge, like so many others, and yielded to the higher authorities. But it is up to the people of India and Aden to continue to resist the attempt at what is little better, as an administrative act, as we remarked the other day, than daylight robbery.

Hustling Roosevelt

The World Economic Conference is faced with a stalemate, due more to the attitude of the European nations than the United States. Efforts are being made by means of powerful and one-sided propaganda to throw all the blame on Mr. Roosevelt, who is accused of disowning his own experts. Experts have their own use, but their opinion is never allowed to get the better of commonsense and the general policy of a country; yet Mr. Roosevelt is condemned for not accepting the advice of the many advisers who have been let loose on the Conference and the world generally at the present moment.

There is very good ground for America's refusal to agree to any proposition which will increase the value of the dollar in terms of sterling, and inversely decrease the value of the sterling in terms of dollar. As soon as Mr. Roosevelt took the direction of American affairs, he made a public appeal, an appeal to the whole world, to inflate their currencies and drive away the present depression. With that end in view he armed himself with considerable powers which were denied to any President before. Before he has done anything in that direction, he is faced with an Economic Conference, where he is asked to sabotage all that he has undertaken to do, or which he has already done. If he refuses to agree to such a suicidal proposal for the sake of the interests of Great Britain or the European countries, no sane person can blame him.

Then again the European countries have purposely brought all kinds of extraneous questions before the Economic Conference, for instance War Debts. A tariff truce ought to have been arrived at before the question of stabilisation of exchanges was taken in hand. But evidently it is not very convenient to England to do so just now, and she must put America in the wrong by confronting her with proposals for the stabilisation of the dollar at a higher level. Mr. Roosevelt is after all human, and he was returned to the White House because America was angry with the supine attitude of Mr. Hoover. He is anxious to give an impetus to American export trade and do away with the enormous unemployment, which is vitiating the economic life of the country.

Can the American President be blamed if he refuses to throw away all the schemes on which he has set his mind and agree to a proposal, the only result of which will be to check the onward movement of American exports? He has already taken powers to control American industries, fix prices of manufactures and generally do everything possible to increase the prices and reduce unemployment. It may not be agreeable to British statesmen that he should do all this, but they should remember that they are not dealing with India, but a great independent country which is determined to re-establish prosperity within its boundaries.

Ahmedabad's Good Example

For some time past we have noted with regret the increasing tendency on the part of millowners, both in Bombay and outside, systematically to lower the wages of workers, on the ground that the financial condition of the mills is desperate. These efforts continue, despite the 25 per cent. additional protection given to them against all non-British cotton piecegoods. While we readily admit that the mill industry has suffered owing to Japanese competition and the economic depression in the country, the millowners have themselves mainly to blame for their present condition.

In Ahmedabad matters had come to a crisis, but better counsels have prevailed. The workers had decided to refer the question of a general strike to the general body for taking a ballot. The millowners themselves had arbitrarily reduced the wages here and there without reference to the Trade Union. The workers tried every method to get their grievances redressed and ultimately they felt that it was impossible to get anything out of the millowners except by a general strike. We are glad that the Ahmedabad Millowners' Association has now discussed the question with the Textile Labour Association.

The agreed terms are that in the six mills concerned wages should be paid according to the scale before the wage-cut was enforced. It is also agreed that retrospective effect should be given to this decision, in such a manner as a committee consisting of a millowner and the representative of the Union may decide.

We congratulate both the millowners and the Labour Association on this happy decision, though we cannot help saying that all this unnecessary trouble might have been avoided if the millowners had from the very outset not taken the law into their own hands. Efforts are now to be made jointly to standardise wages and in case of disagreement, the whole question will be referred to arbitration. This is an eminently fair decision to both parties.

We wish the millowners in Bombay could come to a similar understanding with their men. The difficulty in Bombay is that there are too many Labour Unions and their opinions differ. But the Millowners should come to a decision after consulting the Unions in regard to standardisation of wages, and avoid the present campaign of cutting down the already low wages of men. The Bombay Millowners have adopted a policy of drift both in the management of the mills and in their dealings with the men. This is a very deplorable attitude and should be avoided in the interests of the industry.

Law And Order In Bengal

Security of life and property has long since fled from the rural Bengal. The reports of the Inspector-General of Police show that for the last few years there has been an alarming rise in all sorts of crimes—thefts, dacoities, abductions and murders. Things have come to such a pass that any one living in the muffasil, who has the reputation of being a man of means, has to live in perpetual danger of his life. His life is certainly more unsafe than the district officer for whose safety the Government spend thousands every month. What is this recrudescence of crime and lawlessness due to? The Police Chief says that this is duc to the acute economic distress prevailing in the province and the spirit of defiance of authority said to have been engendered by the Civil Disobedience movement. This diagfinosis has a saving quality in that it casts no reflection on the efficiency and integrity of the Police Force.—"Liberty."

The Only Course Open

As was expected Mr. Aney, the acting President of the Congress, has extended the suspension of the civil disobedience movement. The extended period of suspension is six weeks, that is, until the end of July. In view of Mahatma Gandhi's physical disability and of the continued incarceration of several members of the Working Committee of the Congress which resolved upon the disobedience movement, the extension of the period of suspension was all that was open to the acting President to do. This he has done. We congratulate him on his announcement.—"Leader".

Textile Interests' Duty.

The duty of the Government is to see that their action does not deprive the cotton grower of a market. This is the time at which all possible steps should be taken to conserve Indian cotton and develop the hand-spinning and hand-weaving industry, as also the mill industry. The All India Spinners' Association will do well to study the situation and see how the present developments are helpful to the progress of Khadi. If Japan by her reckless retaliation wishes to cut her nose to spite her face, let her do so. But if we should lose this opportunity to reorganise and strengthen the textile industry in all its branches, woe betide the industrialists.—"New Orissa."

INDIA AND THE TRACTOR

Bar To The Salvation Of The Peasantry In India

(By Bernard Houghton, I.C.S. (Retired.)

Nothing was further from the intentions of the Royal Agricultural Commission than to censure the Government of India—the very name "royal" implies that—but a more damning indictment has never been perused.

After a century and more under the Union Jack what is the condition of the peasantry who number 102 out of 263 millions? In not a few provinces the average size of the holding is 2½ or 3 acres, an area that cannot produce enough to support a family in health, after rent has been deducted. It is not as though the rainfall were as certain as for instance in England. Notoriously in parts of India the crops frequently, partially or wholly fail from drought and Government must institute relief work to prevent a famine. It is not as though the peasant works with modern tools or uses artificial manure. Artificials are unknown and the plough used is of wood, doing little more than scratch the ground. It is drawn by bullocks of inferior breeds.

And outturn has therefore to be artificial but the actual figures are startling. The yield of rice per acre is only one-fifth of that in Italy or Spain, the yield of wheat one-third of that in England, of sugar only one-fourth of that in Java. Other crops present the same picture.

Indian agriculture in short is of the Middle Ages, of a type that the rest of the world has long overgrown.

WHAT FOLLOWS.

Naturally it follows that the peasantry are in debt. That debt is estimated at 900 crores, a terrible figure Less than a third is due to agricultural needs, such as the purchase of cattle; one-third is to avert starvation; over third is due to social or religious customs. In other countries, the peasantry, at least before the present slump, were well fed, even prosperous in a simple way.

Few indeed are there who in India attain to this standard. For the majority life is not a drama but a nightmare. The rulers of India may deplore the condition of the people but to alleviate it they do little. Rent is collected from the peasantry, the landlords demands are enforced, but what serious attempt has ever been made to better the lot of the cultivators?

TRACTOR AS SALVATION.

That poverty obviously derives from two causes, the inferior tools of cultivation, including the cattle, and secondly the minute sub-division of the land. Improvement under present conditions is out of the question. In order to lift the peasantry from despair to hope, and with them India to a fair level of prosperity nothing short of a radical change will suffice.

The tractor alone, and nothing

Frankly Speaking

ATROCIOUS CHARGES.

Not content with charging Mahatma Gandhi and the Acting President of the Congress with "moral cowardice" the "Free Press Journal" now accuses them of "killing Civil Disobedience by slow but crafty steps."

This is an atrocious and disgraceful allegation but the "Free Press Journal" uses language and invents facts so recklessly that we doubt whether it always understands the meaning of the phrases it uses.

In the same article it asserts that "The Bombay Chronicle" "is carrying on propaganda for a cowardly surrender of the Congress in accord with the definite orientation of policy which has been forced on it by the new Management."

It has evolved this entirely from its own imagination. No new policy has been forced on the "Chronicle" by anyone. Those in charge of its editorial columns are entirely responsible for the views expressed in them; there is no question of any sort of dictation.

POLICY OF "THE CHRONICLE".

The understanding between those jointly responsible for the conduct of the "Chronicle" is that the editorial policy will remain what it has always been, one of staunch support of the national cause, as represented by the Congress ideal, and of complete independence within that limit.

The suggestion that any attempt has been made to impose a new policy as a result of changes in the management is as untrue as it is malicious.

The charge is the more silly and audacious in face of the fact that the "Free Press Journal" has embarked on a vitriolic campaign against what it calls the "Congress Command," which can only mean at the moment Mahatma Gandhi and the Acting President, while "The Chronicle" has taken its stand in support of their action.

VILE ATTACKS.

The issue at the moment is not one of the ideal or policy of the Congress but of the methods to be pursued.

We can see no loyalty to the Congress in the launching of a compaign against the leaders at the present critical juncture and the attribution to them of mean and disgraceful motives in the action they have taken.

If the "Free Press Journal" disagrees with them it is welcome to express its own opinion. But its vile attacks on the honour of those responsible for the recent decisions will be reprobated and condemned by all honest and decent-minded people.

NO LIMIT.

There ought to be a limit to the brazenfacedness of even Sir Samuel Hoare, but in his latest answers in the Commons he surpasses himself. He disbelieves every one, except the Police Commissioner of Calcutta, and Sir John Anderson who in turn relies on the Commissioner for his information.

The charges against the Pandit are disgraceful enough, but Sir Samuel's refusal to prosecute him is more disgraceful. Secure in his position, Sir Samuel seems to suppose he can level any charge against a trusted and tried public man

We need not discuss whether the Congress session was held in Calcutta or not, for that is immaterial and if Sir Samuel wants to praise the Police there are other occasions for it. He ought not to mix up the two things.

The refusal to prosecure Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya and his persistance in the charges against him show the length to which official arrogance may go.

RESPECT THE FLAG

One more High Court decision has supported the view that the mere hosting of the National Flag is not an offence even under the Ordinance Act.

In setting aside the conviction of Jogendra Mohan Chaudhury and two others by the Magistrate of Chanpur on a charge of hoisting the National Flag on Independence Day, the Calcutta High Court repudiated the contention of the police that the hoisting of the Flag or "the refusal to take it down at the request of the police in the circumstances of the cases meant the assisting of the operations of an unlawful association."

It follows that without any proud co-operation with an unlawful body the hoisting of the Flag by itself is not an offence.

These decisions should curb the excessive zeal of the police in hauling up people for displaying the National Flag. The people also should display it in larger numbers on suitable occasions; for it is only when a few do so, that the police are encouraged to interfere.

WORSE THAN A BLUNDER

Sir Chimanlal Setalvad puts it mildly when he says that the Princes have blundered in asking for their political relationship to be divorced from the Federal Government. Their attitude in this matter is positive disloyalty to the Federation which they propose to join.

It would certainly be a great advantage to the British interests and a source of weakness to the Federation, but it would do little good to the Princes themselves.

As Sir Chimanlal shows, paramountcy will continue to interfere with their affairs "from principle down to every detail," and it may be impossible for the Federal Government to intervene either in the interests of the Princes or their subjects.

The political control of the Federal Government, in which the Princes themselves would have a powerful voice, would necessarily have been clearly defined.

But the British Government will leave the present position of "Paramountcy", as vague as ever. "Paramountcy," they may continue to say, "must remain Paramountcy."

MYSTERIOUS OCCURRENCES IN INDIAN STATES!

From B. F Bharucha.

May we know:—

(1) Why is there such a crop of mysterious and mischievous movements in Indian States to-day?

(2) Why is there a fresh recurrence of communal trouble in the Alwar State?

(3) Are not the Prime Minister and Revenue and Administrative officers all British I.C.S.'s?

(4) Are they not in sole and uninterrupted charge of the whole State?

(5) Then how do they account for the fresh assaults on Hindu subjects by the Meos of Alwar?

(6) And pray, what is the real trouble in Kashmir?

(7) Has not the state been saddled with a British Prime Minister, British I. G. P., and a couple of Indian I.C.S.'s from the U. P.? And with this combination of talent, why is there fresh trouble in Kashmir?

(8) And what is wrong with the Bhawalpur State? Are not the Hindu subjects brutally treated during the last fortnight?

(9) And what has led the Mangrol State to court trouble and fan communal flames by removing the ban on cow slaughter and music before mosque?

(10) And why have Jaipur, Jodhpur and Udaipur shut out the Harijan workers from their states?

(11) Jaipur can waste money on Polo teams in England! Jodhpur can squander money on hunting expeditions in Africa! And Udaipur in banquets to White visitors! And yet the Paramount Power is all quiet!

(12) Can any responsible Government sit still any longer? An impartial inquiry is most essential to deal with the aforesaid irregularities. Will Lord Willingdon move?

All India feels, he should.

BULSAR HIGH SCHOOL

From "A Citizen".

I recently visited Bulsar and I found that the Bulsar Sarvajanik English School is running very well and is making good progress. Very recently it was visited by the Collector of Surat District who expressed his entire satisfaction for the work put in by all the teachers. He further desired that the school should flourish.

Looking to the present position and the stability of the school, I, being interested in the welfare of the school, make the following suggestions to the managers of the Bulsar Sarvajanik Education School and especially to the president, Mr. Vishrambhai, and the vice-president, Mr. Chaganlal Vakil, who are taking keen interest in education.

In Bulsar there is no English School for the Hindu, Mahomedan and Christian girls. The management will make a provision for it. It is further necessary to have a Hostel for the students who are coming from the surrounding villages. It will be a boon to the school if any philanthropic gentleman of the town will extend his hand of charity for building a Hostel. It is also necessary to have a Music Class and a Debating Society. I hope the above suggestions of mine will be carried out as soon as possible.

I thank the Bulsar people for starting another High School in Bulsar which was so badly needed, especially when the population of the whole Bulsar Taluka is almost a lakh and forty thousand.

RESCUE DRAMATIC ART!

From Hari Prasad Gupta.

The ancient dramatic art is fading away with the advent of talkies in India. Will lovers of art come in the field to save this heritage of India?

I invite correspondence from all—amateur actors and actresses etc.—interested in this line with a view to elevate this important, though much neglected, art.

A QUERY

A Correspondent writes:—Will you or any of your readers kindly throw light on the subject as to whether the "degrees" conferred by the "Universitas Inter-Collegiatis" of Chicago are recognised by our Indian Universities and also what status this University possesses in the eyes of the other learned Universities of the world?

APPEAL TO THE ORTHODOX

From Syt. Hukum Chand, Ajmere.

The "Hindustan Times" of the 11th June has an interesting piece of news from its Correspondent about the refusal of the Municipal peon to take back the cup after a Harijan member of the Municipality had finished drinking water. I am that Harijan member and I shall thank you if you will kindly publish the following to throw further light on the position of the Depressed Class versus orthodox Hindus.

I had been the victim of various other ways of humiliation and insult at the hands of the "Higher" class Hindus but I had patiently put up with all these things and even ignored a lot of them in the fervent hope that the advanced and enlightened section of them at least will strongly object to and disapprove of such a treatment and induce their brothers to be more cosmopolitan in their outlook and less pontifical in their behaviour towards us. But as the correspondent correctly points out in his letter "none of the Hindu members had the courage to open their lips in this matter."

As for the Hindu peon, I believe, he is more sinned against than sinning. The animal instinct of imitation is more potent in these poor and illiterate people than in others and this poor Chaprasi has only done what he has seen his co-religionists do or what he thinks would please them.

What pained me most in the whole of this disgusting incident was that it should be left to a Muslim colleague of mine, Mr. Ahmad Noor Khan, to take back the empty glass from me and thus show to others that there is no religious sanction to sectional haughtiness. Yet we have a section of Hindus who refuse to recognise the Brotherhood of man. Is not the present chaotic position of the Hindu community mainly due to this fact—the refusal of orthodoxy to move with the changing times. And how long is one to remind them that what is needed most today is an orientation in outlook? When, one wonders, shall the rank and file of the Hindus recognise this simple fact?

It would be interesting to your readers to know that apart from being a Member of the Municipality, I am also the President of the Rajasthan Harijan Volunteer corps and the Depressed Class Association, Ajmer and the Secretary of the Rajasthan Dalitodhavar Seva Singh. Further I am the Secretary of a Depressed Class Free School run at Gassiram Dharamsala, run mainly through the help of Pandit Gaurishanker Bhargava who not only has given us the free use of his building for the same purpose but also is helping us in many other ways for which every member of my community feel profoundly grateful to this distinguished citizen.

Sir, if this is the treatment meted out to me, I dread to contemplate what a horrid and harrowing treatment, a very large section of my fellow brothers must be undergoing at the hands of these Hindus brethren whose attitude looks a dismal picture that seems beyond improvement. And my only reason in writing this public letter is to arouse the conscience of the workers of our cause to induce them to give up this attitude and enable us to march hand in hand with them to our common object of showing to the outside world the sublimity and the greatness of this ancient religion which we all love so passionately.

INDIAN STATES PEOPLES SOCIETY

Mr. Beni Prasad Shriwastava of the Servants of the Indian State People Society, Jhansi, writes:—

I call upon all the states subjects in India to organise themselves into local units at once and then to elect representatives for an all India body. I hope the Princes too would help in this cause. The recent affairs in Hindu states like Alwar, Kashmir Devas, Bharatpur and Nabha go to show that lack of co-operation between the subjects and the Princes gives an opportunity to the Political Department to strike the Princes. If there were a well organised States' peoples' body with freedom of press and platform even a Viceroy would not dare to touch the Princes.

Consequently it is in the interest of both, the Princes and the People, that I advocate the establishment of an All-India body with its local units.

Bombay Govt. Giving Effect To Recommendations Of Depressed Classes And Aboriginal Tribes Committee

Government Resolution dated May 29 states:—

The Depressed Classes and Aboriginal Tribes Committee in paragraphs 8-12 of their report, published in July 1930, made the following recommendations:—

(1) that the term "untouchables" as describing the classes to which it is applied at present is offensive and that they should henceforth be officially designated as "Depressed Classes"—a designation which will be in consonance with the existing common practice;

(2) that the term "Depressed Classes" used in Schedule A to the rules under the Primary Education Act, 1923, has given rise to confusion of thought inasmuch as it has assumed a much wider meaning than it bears in common parlance, and includes, besides the untouchables, also the Aboriginal Tribes, the Criminal Tribes and other wandering and backward castes. They recommend therefore that the nomenclature of the classifications hitherto adopted in the Primary Education Rules should be changed, the classes therein shown as 'Backward" and "Depressed" being renamed "Intermediate" and "Back ward", respectively;

(3) that the "Backward Classes" should again be sub-divided into

(a) "Depressed Classes", which should consist of untouchable classes only;

(b) "Aboriginal and Hill Tribes" which should consist of castes a large proportion of which inhabit or did inhabit, until recent times the forest areas, and

(c) "other Backward Classes"—which should include the wandering tribes who may not be aboriginals or live in forest areas but who need special care as being very backward;

(4) that it is not necessary to classify the Criminal Tribes separately but that such of them as are untouchable should be classified as "Depressed Classes", such of them as live or did live until recent times, in forest areas should be shown as "Aboriginal or Hill Tribes" and the rest as "other Backward Classes";

(5) that a list of "Backward Classes" prepared on the lines indicated in the foregoing sub-paragraphs should be published and made applicable for all purposes such as educational privileges, recruitment to services and representation on public bodies, and that no change should be made in the list except with the consent of Government; and

BACKWARD CLASSES.

(6) that no community should be permitted to remain in the "Backward Classes" category after the special aid and protection to be afforded to these classes becomes no longer necessary for its advancement, and that to ensure this the Backward Class Board should review the list of Backward Classes from time to time and submit to Government recommendations for the removal from it of any community which is not treated as untouchable by the other classes of the community and which has reached a certain standard of literacy—the exact standard to be fixed by Government in consultation with the Backward Class Board—and an economic status beyond which special assistance is not necessary.

The chief difficulty that has been experienced is in respect of the "other backward classes" enumerated in Schedule III. The Committee laid down no definite criterion for the fixing of this schedule and a number of classes have been suggested for inclusion which would have resulted in an unreasonable increase in the number of persons so classified. In fixing this schedule, Government have adopted as a rough working guide the principle that the category of "other Backward Classes" should comprise classes which are approximately at the same stage of social and educational advancement as those in Schedules I and II and are so backward as to need specal help from the Backward Class Officer.

4. The orders passed in this Resolution of Government do not apply to Sind.

THE MORALS OF 1940!

LOOKING 7 YEARS AHEAD!

Will there be new morals, new loves, new wars in 1940? Will the woman of 1940 have a new code of morals? Will she have the tenderness of mother-love? Will she insist on marriage? Will she send her boy to war? Will love be her bargaining point when dealing with men?

What a mass of questions that frustrate even the cleverest brain for answers! To be able to answer these questions it will be necessary to look into the next generation—into the hearts of sons and mothers of 1940! Again, the sweethearts of to-day are bound to be intrigued about courtship in 1940. How will the lovers propose in 1940? Will lovers of that time propose or serenade by means of unique radio sets in the home permitting individual hookups and the tuning out of everything else? It is rather exciting to project yourself into the future and try to imagine how, under what conditions, a proposal of marriage will be made or the language used? Will it be by telephone, television, some development of the radio or aviation and will lovers revert to the flowery language of our grandmothers as modern styles in dress are doing? Still more important, what will the smart woman wear in the spring of 1940?

You can look into the future—seven years from now—by coming to the Capitol throughout the next week to see something entirely different in talking pictures entitled "Men Must Fight," starring Diana Wynyard, the star of "Rasputin" and "Cavalcade," with Phillips Holmes, star of "An American Tragedy!"

Will you be there? There is only one answer: "You bet, I will."

WEAK SPOTS OF LONDON POLICE

Force Not Adequate To Meet Present Times

(Special Cable.)

LONDON June 20.

Home Secretary's concern at "weak spots" in efficiency of London Police Force was expressed in the Parliamentary Standing Committee, discussions of Metropolitan Police Bill which provides "inter alia" for recruitment of 500 young men for short term service not exceeding ten years. Gilmour convinced need for younger men. Under the present circumstances the force, he said, is not adequate to meet the increasing difficulties before it. Among the reforms he insisted upon was that somebody at Scotland should be able to give information at any time about the state of crime and methods of combatting it.

He added: "Under the existing system I cannot get full opportunities I desire."

INDIA AND THE TRACTOR

else can work this miracle. The tractor ploughs deeply, and swiftly, can supplement hundreds of wooden ploughs and do their work infinitely better. Moreover much of the land now devoted to fodder crops can be devoted to food crops—in the United States the tractor has thus set free twenty-six million acres. Petrol and oil, the needs of the tractor are produced in Burma.

But, it may be asked, how can a population steeped in such poverty and debt purchase and maintain expensive tractors? As now governed that cannot be. But a Government which represented the people, could as in Soviet Russia, supply the tractors and charge the peasantry only interest and the cost of upkeep. The Russian was formerly poor, he too used a wooden plough; his holding though not so small as in India, was frequently split up into fragments.

Under the present system a large group of peasants voluntarily join together and work a collective farm with Government tractors dividing the cost and sharing the profits amongst themselves. The greatly enhanced returns are quickly converting even the most conservative to their method, so that well-nigh two-thirds of the total area is now in collective farms. What the Russians have done, that also Indians can do.

SIMLA WILL NOT DO IT.

But would Simla consider such a system? Assuredly not, for it would mean expropriation of all landlords. Because landlordism by its boundaries obstructs the areas on which a tractor can be used economically in a country like India, indeed in most countries it is incompatible with the tractor. Now the landlords are the mainstay of government in India. From the earliest days they have worked hand-in-glove with government for the subjection of the people. Is it conceivable then that Simla or Whitehall would for an instant contemplate the abolition of the landlords? As a recent illustration of their attitude, take the Irish Land Annuities. These represent money advanced by the British Government to compensate the Irish landlords, whom the Irish people, left to themselves, would have turned out neck and crop without compensation.

That consideration alone makes the use of tractors impossible under the present dispensation. Finance would only be a minor difficulty, since a drastic reduction in the military budget would furnish the necessary funds. The real barrier to tractor cultivation is the alliance between Simla and the landlords. So long as this alliance subsists, the hundred odd millions who look to the land for their living must inevitably drag out their shortened lives in misery, in poverty and in debt.

AMERICA LAUNCHES COTTON REDUCTION PROGRAMME

Wallace Plans Campaign To Induce Growers To Reduce Acreage; Payments And Benefits

(SPECIAL CABLE.)

WASHINGTON, June 20.

Mr. Wallace indicated that the final determination of his programme will be left to the growers. He will not accept offers to lease, unless sufficient numbers were received to justify the reduction programme. Unless acreage capable of taking two million bales of cotton from production is leased Mr. Wallace said that he did not believe that it would be any use applying the programme.

The average yield of the South is one-third bale per acre indicating that 6 million acres constituted the Secretary's idea of a minimum area which must be taken from production.

Producers will be asked to sign contracts offering the lease of a definite amount of their acreage to the Secretary of Agriculture.

COTTON WEEK PROGRAMME.

A special "cotton week" campaign will be conducted from beginning of June 26 throughout the belt, when an intensive effort will be made to obtain the co-operation of the growers.

The amount of processing tax is based on the difference between the current and the average farm price and the pre-War parity. Current rates would be about four cents to a pound.

ACREAGE REDUCTION.

Two plans will be offered to the growers: firstly cash payment based on the productivity of the land and ranging from six dollars per acre for the land yielding around 100 lbs. lint cotton per acre to 12 dollars, for the land yielding 275 pounds or more, plus the option of the Government owned cotton in an amount equal to that to which the producer agrees to retire from production.

Options will be offered at 6 cents per pound. The second will be cash benefit without option. The amount of benefit will range from 7 to 20 dollars per acre according to the yield. If the campaign succeeds, Mr. Wallace will announce payments and benefits and proclaim them effective from the first of August.

DARATUL ADAB MEETING

Nawabzada Murtaza Ali's Paper On Ajanta Caves

(From A Correspondent.)

HYDERABAD (Dn.), June 19.

A meting of the Daratul Adab was held on Sunday last at 5 p.m. in the Anjuman-i-Islam Hall. In the absence of the permanent president, Nawab Shah Rukhyar Jung Bahadur owing to his indisposition, Mr. A. R. Dimtimkar, J.P., the vice-President, occupied the chair. About 25 members were present. Nawabzadah Syed Murtaza Ali Khan read a very informative paper on "The Carvings in the Elephanta Caves."

The able lecturer differed from Fergusson and Havell as regards the date of these caves. While Fergusson has put the date about 800 A.D. and Havell about 500 A.D., the learned lecturer has put the date of the building of the caves at about 650 A.D. and in support of his theory, he advanced that Maurya and Chalukya Dynasties ruled in Western India from 450 to 750 A.D. and as the monarchs of these two Dynasties were great patrons of Art and Sculpture, these fine works of Art must have been accomplished under their patronage.

After mentioning the various scenes depicted in the caves by means of carvings he described the carvings wherein the marriage scene of Siva and Parvati has been depicted. He called it "The Crowning glory of the Sculpture and the Artist". He said: "the almost human touch of the scene, the divine beauty of the bride standing in a most graceful pose on the right of Siva, while adding an exquisite charm to the picture makes it perfectly serene and divinely pleasant."

BEAUTY AND WORKMANSHIP.

Concluding, he described the whole scene "the beauty, the workmanship, the grace, the reality, the exquisiteness, the mingling of the wild with the serene, of the glorious with the lively, of the crude with the pleasant is the unique feature of the great artistic treasure which lies revealed in the Elephanta Caves."

The paper was very much appreciated by the members.

Mr. Zakariya Fayazi, M.A. (Alig.) was the host of the meeting and after partaking of the light refreshment, the meeting dispersed.

MARWARIS DUPED

Sensational Fraud At Nagpur.

(From Our Correspondent.)

NAGPUR, June 19.

Traffic in married women who were removed from place to place and married to Marwaris in need of brides has recently come to light as a result of three complaints of fraud having been lodged against five accused in the Court of Mr. Joshi, Magistrate, First Class, Nagpur by three Marwaris of Raj-nandgaon, who are alleged to have been duped to the extent of Rs. 15,000.

It is alleged that the accused represented that the bride in one case was the daughter of one of them. It was agreed between the parties that the marriage should be solemnised at Ramtek, and that when that was done, the accused should be paid Rs. 6,000. Some time later when the bride went to her husband's house, it was discovered that she was a full grownup woman of 30, and not a minor as represented.

Two other marriages were performed at Ramtek and were similarly detected.

Two of the accused are absconding, while the cases against the remaining three will commence shortly.

APPEAL OF DHANWANTARI REJECTED

Sentences To Run Concurrently

LAHORE, June 20.

The appeal of Dhanwantari accused in the Delhi Conspiracy Case against the sentence of ten years rigorous imprisonment was dismissed by Justice Kunwar Daleepsingh in the High Court to-day. The important law point advanced on behalf of the appellant namely that the Special Magistrate Mr. Tewis who had sentenced Dhanwantari to seven years, under section 307 (I.P.C.), and to three years under the Arms Act had no jurisdiction to try the case and that the case should have been decided only by the tribunal which originally had tried the accused was rejected by His Lordship.

It was contended for the appellant that although the Act which had brought the tribunal into being was abolished that did not determine its jurisdiction respecting the pending of the case and that the accused should not have been made over to another court.

His Lordship also rejected Dhanwantary's plea that the pistol which was alleged to have been found in his possession was not working in order, and therefore he could not have fired the alleged shots. In maintaining the conviction of the sentence however, the judge ordered the two sentences to run concurrently and not consecutively.

It may be recalled that Dhanwantari and Sukhdeoraj were challenged by a head constable, Punjab C.I.D. in November 1930 at Chandnichowk, Delhi, on which both are alleged to have opened fire injuring two police constables. Sukhdeoraj escaped and Dhanwantari was arrested. He was included in the Delhi Conspiracy Case which was later abandoned by the prosecution.—A. P.

CREESE'S BAPTISM IN COUNTY CRICKET

Valentine Hits Up 164 For Kent

LONDON, June 19.

Rain intermittent with thunderstorms affected almost every match.

Creese scored his first century in a first class cricket match today. Profiting by his escape behind the wicket, he attacked the spinners operating on a wet pitch, and was undefeated at the close of the innings. He put on 165 in 3-1/2 hours which included 24 four's.

BOYES IN DEADLY FORM.

Boyes consolidated the position and by turning the ball considerably tied up the batsmen hopelessly. He returned an analysis of 6 wickets for 24 runs.

Verity finding a spot on a treacherous wicket exploited it fully, and rattled out Gloucester, who lost 6 wickets for 55 runs.

Carr did not play his typical innings. He was most restrained on an apparently good wicket but opened up after reaching his individual century. He hit thirteen boundaries.

The match between Warwickshire and Kent began late in the after noon. Valentine soon started hitting out and making fine offdrives. His individual 100 was hoisted in 5 minutes under 3 hours.

'AL CAPONE' OF DONGRI STABBED

Police Arrest Assailant

Haji Mir Akbar, alleged to be the leader of a gang in the Dongri section, and once described as the "Al Capone" of Bombay is lying in the J. J. Hospital seriously wounded as a result of a drunken brawl that took place on Monday night at Bisti Moholla. Another accomplice of Haji, one Abddl Shakoor, also received injuries on both his hands and was treated at the J. J. Hospital.

Gambling which appears to be the mania of the city, was at the bottom of the fight that took place on Monday night. It appears that Haji and his men with one Hussein Moosa and others were gambling on Monday night and ended off with a drink. After this, a quarrell arose over some money, which one party owed to the other and while words were being exchanged, it appears, Hussein Moosa pulled out a knife and rushed at Haji but Abdul Shakoor, who was nearby intervened and wanted to snatch the knife, but was stabbed on both his hands. Moosa then rushed at Haji and stabbed him in the chest.

By that time, Sub-Inspector Mohiuddin of the Dongri Police rushed to the scene and arrested Hussein Moosa. Haji and Shakoor were removed to the J. J. Hospital, where Haji has been detained for treatment. As his condition was considered to be precarious, his dying declaration was recorded by a magistrate.

Hussein Moosa, the assailant, was placed on Tuesday morning before Mr. G. R. Khairaz, Presidency Magistrate, Mazagaon and was remanded to custody till June 30, to enable the police to carry out their investigations.

High Court Directs Parents Of 15-Year-Old Boy To Take Charge Of Him

On the Apellate Side of the High Court, Mr. Justice Baker and Mr. Justice Broomfield set aside the sentence of six months' rigorous imprisonment passed on a 15-year-old boy Dattoo Sattoo by the Presidency Magistrate, 5th Court, Bombay, who convicted him for taking part in a political meeting.

The discharge order was made under section 22 of the Children's Act which provided that children of tender age should not be sent to jail, but to a Reformatory school.

In this case, however, as the boy had developed epilepsy in the Yeravda Jail, their Lordships thought he was not a fit person to be sent to a Reformatory. The Court, therefore, gave him the benefit of section 24 of the Act, and directed that the Secretary of the Childrens' Act Society should communicate with the boy's parents to take charge of him after executing a bond for one year, and till this was done, the boy should be kept at the Childrens' Home.

IMPROPER SENTENCE.

The proceedings were taken by the Childrens' Aid Society, who reported the case to the High Court on the ground that under Section 22 of the Children's Act, the sentence of imprisonment was improper, and that the boy should have been sent to a Reformatory School. The High Court, thereupon, suspended the sentence some time back, and called for report.

The report of the jail authorities showed that the boy had developed epilepsy during the period he was in jail.

Their Lordships observed that the offence with which the boy was charged, namely, taking part in a political meeting as a hireling, was not such that the boy can be regarrded so unruly or of a depraved character as not to be a fit person to be sent to a Reformatory.

But since he was suffering from epilepsy, he was not a fit person to be sent to a Reformatory school or to any school. The only alternative, therefore, to send him back to jail seemed to be under S. 24 of the Children's Act which provided for the discharge of a child after due admonition, or committing him to the care of his parents or guardians or other adult relatives or persons, on their entering into a bond, with or without surety as the court may require, to be responsible for the good behaviour of the child for a period not exceeding three years.

In this case, however, the boy's parents were not present to execute such a bond. The boy had expressed his unwillingness to return to his parents. But his unwillingness could not be taken into account as he could not be let loose in Bombay without employment or means of sustenance.

Under the circumstances, the court thought that the only course was to communicate with the boy's parents asking them to take charge of him on executinb a bond for one year, and till this was done the boy should be kept at the Children's Home. The Secretary of the Children's Aid Society was to be requested to communicate with the parents.

List Of Successful Candidates

SIMLA, June 19.

In a communique dated December 5, 1932, it was announced that three vacancies in the Indian Civil Service will be filled this year by competition among Burman candidates and three were definitely offered for open competition at the Indian Examination held at Delhi in January 1933. It was also stated that the number of candidates, if any, to be recruited by nomination if the result of the Delhi examination rendered this necessary for the purpose of redressing communal inequalities, would be settled when the results of the examination were known.

The first three successful candidates in the examination are Hindus. In order to secure proper proportion of minority candidates in combined recruitment from London and Delhi examinations, it is necessary to take one additional minority candidate. The fourth candidate in the open competition at Delhi is a muslim. It has, therefore, been decided to take the first four candidates in the Delhi examination, i.e., 3 Hindus and 1 Muslim and not make any nominations.

Combined recruitment of London and Delhi examinations gives the following results by communities: 13 Hindus, 4 Muslims, 2 Anglo-Indians. The names of Indian and Burman candidates who have been successful in the open competition at Delhi and competition at Rangoon restricted to persons of Burmese domicile held in January last are as follows—

Indian Candidates: Khub Chand, (2) Harish Chandra Gupta, (3) H. R. Krishnan, (4) Anis Ahmad Rushdie.

Burman Candidates; (1) Maung H. La Maung, (2) E. A. Franklin, (3) Soe Tint.—A. P.

So begin a course of Sanatogen. This tonic food has been tested so often with such splendid results that it has become world-famous for its strengthening and blood-creating action. 24,000 physicians all over the world have written recommending Sanatogen as the ideal revitalizing food.

URGENCY OF REMOVING TRADE BARRIERS

Delegates Stress Point In World Economic Conference

MR. RUNCIMAN'S WARNING

Don't Live In World Of Make Believe, He Says, And Points Out Uselessness Of Multilateral Agreements

RUGBY, June 20.

The World Economic Conference began the detailed consideration of its vast problem in committee to-day and unofficial conversation between the delegates and the experts on the various species of the questions are continuing. As announced from Washington, Professor Moley who is President Roosevelt's personal adviser on economic questions, will leave for London on Wednesday. Pending his arrival the anticipated decision regarding the proposed temporary currency stabilisation will be postponed.

BRITAIN'S ATTITUDE.

The important statement with regard to the British attitude towards some of the major questions before the Economic Commission of the World Conference was made yesterday afternoon when the Commission took up its duties with the discussion of commercial policy. The French delegate M. Sarrut suggested that agreements between the producers afforded a logical point of departure for discussion. The suggestion was not persisted in and the delegates of Greece, Belgium, Austria and Uruguay spoke on the urgency of removing trade barriers.

FRENCH CONTENTION

The French contention received the support of the German delegate Herr Posse and, later, Mr. Walter Runciman (Britain) President of the Board of Trade expressed the view that these proposals for the regulation of production were not in conflict with the general aim of lowering obstacles to international trade.

WARNING

Nearly every nation had suffered as a result of unlimited and uncontrolled production. He warned the delegates against living in a world of make-believe dealing with trade barriers. Tariff reductions would be useless unless they are real and effective. Multilateral agreements would derive no purpose unless they covered very wide area. The British Delegation would not wish for multilateral agreements which penalised countries on low tariff basis. Sacrifices such as those must be made and should not be disproportionately bourne by low tariff countries.

TARIFF BARRIERS REDUCED

Referring to recent experience in Britain he suggested that the bilateral agreements which it has been found, had to some extent reduced tariff barriers represented the best means of dealing with the situation. As to the difficulties encountered which the most favoured nations clause had raised were some of great importance. Because of it, advantages would have to accrue to some countries, giving some concessions in return. The British Government thought this was not quite fair and while giving general adherence they were unprepared to sacrifice their bilateral agreements to the unequivocal adherence to the Clause.

DRUGGING THE MARKETS

Referring to the danger of the markets being drugged by uncontrolled production, he said that the control imposed with the object of raising prices played a considerable part in the United Kingdom policy and already there were signs of the object being attained. While prepared to consider co-operation proposals for the regulation of scheme in each case should have the support of at least a large proportion of producers and should contain adequate provision of safeguard for the consumers of the importing countries. Sir Philip Cunlife Lister, Colonial Secretary supporting this view suggested that it was the unanimous desire of all the delegates to encourage in every way, arrangements between the producers in different countries. But firstly arrangement must be comprehensive. Secondly it must be comprehensive as regards all producers. Thirdly the scheme must be fair to producers and the consumers interests. The stability of prices was essential. Fourthly the scheme must be of lasting value. Finally it must encourage efficiency. The Commission adjourned till tomorrow.—B.O.W.

TEXT OF U. S. DELEGATIONS RESOLUTION

Gold As International Measure Of Exchange Values

LONDON, June 19.

The resolution submitted to the Monetary Sub-Commission suggests that gold should be re-established as an international measure of exchange values. The use of gold should be confined to cover for circulation and as a medium of settling international balances payments. This means gold, either coin or bullion, be withdrawn from circulation.

The resolution also suggests that an agreement should be sought between the chief silver-producing countries and countries, which are the large holders or users of silver to limit arbitrary sales upon the world market. All nations should agree to remonetise subsidiary silver coinages upto the fineness at least of 800.

Senator Pitman who submitted the resolution declared it as the first international recognition of silver since 1873.—Reuter.

HOW U. S. VIEWS STABILISATION

Government is not intervening in the dollar market but leaving the currency to find its own level.

MALAVIYA STILL VERY WEAK

Feels Sorry To Have Been Unable To Meet Mahatma And Hopes To Resume Work After Recovery

CAWNPORE, June 20.

The strain of performing the opening ceremony of Swadeshi Bazar here on Sunday has proved too much for Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya in his present state of health and he has had to prolong his stay here by two days to get sufficient rest and to be able to undertake another journey.

He had keenly desired to proceed to Poona but even the journey from Allahabad to Cawnpore has proved too much for him. Under pressing advice of Doctors and friends, Pandit Malaviya has again postponed his departure for Poona. He is proceeding to Lucknow this evening and after halting there for 24 hours, he will leave for Mussoorie where he reaches on 22nd. He will stay there for about a month.

GANDHIJI'S ANXIETY.

Mahatma Gandhi has wired to Pandit Malaviya saying that he is distressed to hear of his weak health and asking him to inform him (Gandhiji) of his condition. The Pandit has sent the following reply. "Thanks, no trouble only persisting weakness requires rest, cool climate. Under pressing advice Doctors friends, going Mussoorie, being nearest, for three weeks; feeling sore at not having been able meet you so long but feel sure when we meet after this compulsory rest, we shall be quite fit to resume work."

NEED OF COMPLETE REST.

It will appear from the above that it is hoped that rest at Mussoorie will restore the Pandit to his normal health again but in order that it may be so rest must be complete. It is therefore earnestly hoped that all well wishers and friends of Pandit Malaviya will co-operate in this by postponing not only their visits to him but even correspondence with him for a month.—A.P.

LONDON, June 20.

The "Times", in a leader, on the proposal of the transfer of administration of Aden to the Imperial Government, says that the best defence in the proposed change is that it will relieve the future Government of India of what is essentially a contribution for the upkeep of a distant Imperial Fortress, which is theoretically justified, no doubt, but is certain in practice to be continually criticised by the advocates of economy.—Reuter.

EUROPEAN TRADER ACCUSED OF SABOTAGE

Sensational Allegations Made In Kalyan Court

(From Our Correspondent.)

KALYAN, June 18.

The case in which Mr. James Haggan, a European businessman carrying on trade in sand which he removes from the Mumbra Creek near Thana, stands charged with theft, mischief to any decked vessel intending to destroy or render unsafe, intentionally running the vessel aground or ashore with intent to house-trespass and to commit theft before Mr. H. K. Lakhia, First Class Magistrate Kalyan Taluka, came up for hearing yesterday afternoon.

The prosecution story is that Mr Haggan bought some dredgers and barges from the Bombay Development Department, and the Bombay Port Trust. Two dredgers and two barges were sold by the accused to Bai Nawajbai Mervanji on January 31 last. HYDERABAD (Deccan), June 19.

The alleged desecration of a plot adjoining the "Tharthara Thakia," burial ground between Hyderabad and Secunderabad, where Hindu and Muslim cemetries are situated side by side, is the subject of a memorial which has been forwarded jointly by Hindus and Muslims to His Exalted Highness the Nizam.

The memorialists state that this plot which also contains about 30 graves was sold recently to two Hindus, Annam Rathnia and Noelam Balliah, and that thereafter the latter have put it to use which offends the religious susceptibilities of both Hindus and Muslims.

They point ot that representations hitherto made by them both to the Secunderabad Cantonment authorities and the Sarf-i-Khas Department of H. E. H.'s Government have failed to secure the redress prayed for, and appeal to His Exalted Highness to lentervene and see that justice is done.—A. P.

WORD "HARIJAN" NOT WELCOME

Depressed Leader Takes It As Insult

HYDERABAD (Deccan), June 19.

Strong objection to the term "Harijan" which he declares is even more contemptuous than "Depressed Classes" is taken by Mr. P. Veeranah, the leader of the Adi-Dravidas in Hyderabad, who in a press statement urges the untouchable classes to launch a strong agitation against its continued use in reference them.

Mr. Veeranah declares that the term "Harijan" actually means "unclaimed" or "the children of Devadasis" and adds that by importing it into the present controversy Gandhiji only added insult to injury.

After stating that Gandhiji's recent fast had neither moved Orthodox Hindus nor had brought any appreciable benefit to those in whose name it was taken, Mr. Veeranah urges that an agitation should immediately be commenced all over the country by the Depressed Classes for stopping the use of the term "Harijan" in references to them.—A.
